From the Desk of...

Julie Beem, Executive Director
Attachment & Trauma Network

We welcome you as an active partner in the trauma-informed movement. This year, we are proud to host three powerful events that we invite your involvement in:

- The NEW Learning Brain Exchange,
- 9th annual Creating Trauma-Sensitive Schools Conference, and
- 2nd annual Building Resilient Communities for Children Conference.

As you can see, we're up to something new!

The Learning Brain Exchange will be our virtual CTSS Conference in February refreshed to focus on the latest in the neuroscience of learning. It is a 4-track virtual conference covering topics like the Science of Reading, Brain-based Discipline and Trauma-Responsive Leadership. Likewise, we're hosting the 2nd annual Building Resilient Communities for Children Conference to bring together educators, parents, clinicians, youth justice professionals, and community leaders—because helping children thrive truly takes a village. And, returning for the 9th year is our Creating Trauma-Sensitive Schools Conference, the largest gathering of Trauma-Informed Educators dedicated to building Trauma-Responsive schools!

Now, more than ever, those who love children impacted by trauma – educators, caregivers, and community leaders – need our collective support. Sadly, trauma among children in U.S. classrooms is on the rise. Prior to the pandemic, ACEs science told us that 20-25% of children in any classroom across this country had adversities that impacted their health and learning. Today, teachers report significantly greater numbers of students—and staff—needing trauma-sensitive support and trauma-responsive leadership.

The leaders and practitioners at the forefront of this critical movement are the driving forces behind our conferences. As our partners, we will showcase your work and inform our attendees and the public of your important contributions to the mission.

We are honored to work alongside you in this movement.

From our hearts to yours,

Julie

THE LEARNING BRAIN EXCHANGE 2026

A Creating Trauma-Sensitive Schools Conference

February 16 & 17, 2026
Virtual

The Learning Brain Exchange is ATN's newest conference focused on the understanding of neuroscience as it applies to students' abilities to learn and thrive.

This energizing conference brings together educators at all levels to explore our 4-track virtual conference:

- Reaching & Teaching Students: Explore the Science of Learning with strategies that improve learning for all.
- Brain-Based Behaviors: Look at behaviors, discipline and classroom management through a neuroscience lens.
- Trauma-Responsive Leadership: Discover why Trauma-Informed leadership will guide your school with compassion and clarity.
- Connected Communities: Dive into ways to build connection with students, staff, parents, and the community at large...all for healthier brains and to enhance learning!

CREATING TSS 2026 Conference

June 27-29, 2026
Hilton Anatole
Dallas TX

Creating Trauma-Sensitive Schools (TSS) 2026 equips educators with the knowledge, strategies, and tools to become truly trauma-informed—building programs and systems that strengthen a child's ability to grow socially, emotionally, and academically.

Over the last 9 years the TSS Conference has reached 18,000 educators in all 50 states and several English-speaking countries...representing over 475,000 students.

This year's event includes:

- 30 workshops
- Saturday Fun Night
- experiential sessions
- Academy Day
- Leadership Summit - New this year!

Join us for a casual time full of learning, networking, re-energizing, and fun. The Hilton Anatole is a great place to host this summer gathering...with access to their Jadewaters Resort Water Park. Bring your family!
